

Elbows

*Unnerving and unprecedented
Clarity we lack
We'll listen to the experts
And get out the anti-bac*

*Employing social distancing
We'll don our paper mask
Constantly, we'll wash our hands
From every little task*

*We'll smile and elbow friends we see
And 'Skype' the ones we can't
We'll drop food off on doorsteps
For our neighbour, nan and aunt*

*We'll get the board games out again
Clean off the Christmas dust
We'll dance around our living rooms
With those we love and trust*

*We'll go out when we have to
And we'll shop for what we need
And blast the inconsiderate
For their selfishness and greed*

*This microscopic enemy
Has brought us to a halt
Though our medics will keep going
With their earthly grit and salt*

*Key workers must keep chipping
At the coal face to ensure
The time 'it' will be beaten
And rotate the world once more*

By Mrs Bennett